Forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from our historical experience and our present expectations or projections. These risks include, but are not limited to, the potential expiration, cancellation or suspension of our state or federal contracts; our lack of prior operating history, including lack of experience with network providers and health benefits management, in expansion markets or in the prescription drug plan business; our ability to accurately predict and effectively manage health benefits and other operating expenses; our ability to accurately estimate incurred but not reported medical costs; risks associated with future changes in healthcare laws; potential reductions in funding for government healthcare programs; risks associated with periodic government reimbursement rate adjustments; regulatory changes and developments, including potential marketing restrictions or sanctions and premium recoupment; potential fines, penalties or operating restrictions resulting from regulatory audits, examinations, investigations or other inquiries; risks associated with our acquisition strategy; risks associated with our efforts to expand into additional states and counties; risks associated with our substantial debt obligations; risks associated with our business obligations, including our ability to attract and retain qualified management personnel; and other risks discussed in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), including our Annual Report on Form 10-K, which filings are available from the SEC. You should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date they are made. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements.
